NUMBER 45.

Waterford and Norway Town Line.

Some time since a disagreement arose between the two towns as to the place of a monument on the boundary of the town.

The Supreme Court was petitioned to establish the boundary of the town.

Some three weeks ago, the commission consisting of Capt. W. W. Whitmarsh of Norway, W. E. Douglass of Waterford and Abigail P. Gordon with a surveyor located the dividing line, taking from Norway a good many acres and setting it on to Waterford.

The property owners affected by the change of boundary are Cyrus Chubb, H. F. E. E. Andrews, Almora Everett, Huxford, Oliver Abbott, Chas. J. Everett, E. M. Everett, Herbert Frost, Henry O. Holden, Philip Mill privilege, Virgil Dunn and Sewell Austin. Many of them object to the change and last Monday Walter L. Gray of South Paris was called there to run out the old town line. This he did for some 800 rods. This is claimed to be the proper boundary and will not make some of the land owners taxable in Waterford as the new location does. These men are to appeal from the location of the commission and ask for a relocation.

It's very evident there is a good chance for a legal battle over the settlement of the question. The aggrieved parties are in earnest and have employed fighting legal talent to resist the establishment of the new line, which they say is unwarranted and unreasonable.

Harold Howe, the son of Paul Howe, was accidentally shot by Louis Cox, Saturday afternoon, with a shot gun.

The Cox family was visiting at Howe's and the boys, Louis about 10 years old, and Harold about 13, were playing in the barn. The gun was in the barn, loaded, and the Cox boy got it and pointed it at the Howe boy. Harold told him that he mustn't do that as it was loaded, and took the gun away from him and took out the shell and hid it. Then he began to do his chores. Louis got the gun and loaded it again, and coming in where Harold was bedding down the horses, pointed it at him and the gun exploded, the shot entering the left arm near the shoulder.

Physicians were summoned at once and the arm was taken off close to the shoulder. The boy is getting along well.

A Series of Robberies.

Monday night of last week the house on the Hebron road belonging to A. D. Park was entered by parties who followed the same tactics shown in several other breaks in this section. This house is unoccupied, but is furnished and the Parks go there at their convenience.

Going into the house they found an oil stove burning full blast in the middle of the floor with a wash tub over it. Putting out the stove they searched the premises and in the hay in the stable they found a man whom they took into custody and telephoned to jailer Farrar who instructed him to bring him to jail.

The man who is about 30 years old gave his name as Alfred Duffy. He was searched and in his pockets was found several small articles and a quantity of food. Among the a broken blade knife. When the house of Miss May near Paris Hill was broken into a few weeks ago, the point of a knife blade was broken off in attempting to take out a cellar window. Chicago Society Woman Who Was So Sick She Could Not Sleep or Eat, Cured by Doan's Kidney Pills.

"When a woman's kidneys go wrong, her back gives out and every little task becomes a burden. She is tired, nervous, sleepless, run down—suffers daily from backache, headaches, dizzy spells, and bearing-down pains.

"Don't worry over imagined 'female troubles.' Cure the kidneys and you will be well. Read how you find the cure.

Marion Knight, of 33 N. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill., member of the Chicago Federation of Musicians and a well-known club woman, says: 'This winter when I started to use Doan's Kidney Pills I ached in every bone and had a tense pains in the kidneys and pelvic organs. The urine was thick and cloudy, and I could barely get enough to live. I felt a change for the better after the first bottle, and within a week the second week I began eating heartily. I began to improve generally, and before seven weeks had passed I was well. I had spent hundreds of dollars for medicine that did not help me, but $6 worth of Doan's Kidney Pills restored me to perfect health.'

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Miss Knight will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all dealers; price, fifty cents per box.

Thousands Never Suspect That They Have It.

It is now generally admitted that diseases of the kidneys and bladder constitute the greatest source of disease. Cure these and we remove the cause of nearly all ailments of the Liver, Blood, Stomach and Bowels. But the approach of Kidney disease is so slow and gradual that the first symptoms may not be noticed. Here are some of the most common symptoms of this dangerous disease:

Discolored or dark urine, sometimes excessive and of pale color. Unusual desire to urinate, especially at night. "Brick Dust" deposits, sometimes containing albumen and blood. Swelling around eyes, ankles and abdomen. Drowsiness and a constant tired feeling. Pale, hot and dry skin. Pain in the back, headache, cramps in the legs. Bowels constipated, digestion impaired. Rheumatic pains in the joints and muscles.

If you have any of the above symptoms your kidneys need immediate attention, and Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy should be taken at once. Do you know what will happen if you neglect these symptoms? Bright's Disease, most terrible, is nearly always the outcome. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has cured thousands of kidney disease, and we have the positive proof. It will cure you. Send Dr. David Kennedy's Remedy, Remedy, N. LOCKE'S MILLS.

Frolic and Good Cheer.
About fifty friends of Mr. and Mrs. Dana B. Grant availed themselves of the opportunity and accepted the appropriate and original invitation which were sent to spend Halloween with them in their pleasant home.

As they entered the hall which was lighted by a huge jack-o-lantern, they were met by two spooks who led them to the rooms above where all sorts of ghostly objects met their sight.

The rooms had been decorated for the occasion with evergreen, ferns, palms and jack-o-lanterns, while here and there the grinning face of a black cat was seen staring at you. Special mention must be made of the dining-room which was conservatory and dance hall combined.

One end of the room was banked with potted plants while ropes of evergreen were hooped from corner to corner and caught in the center by a large red bell; the same was carried out over the windows and doors which made the room very attractive.

Bethel orchestra was in attendance and as the first strains of music were heard, both old and young sought their partners, which were chosen by different colored bows, and all joined in the grand march led by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stowell.

A regular dance order was carried out. Those who did not care to dance enjoyed themselves at whist and other games in the rooms above where tables had been arranged for that purpose.

Amid laughter and music a great noise and disturbance was heard at the door, which proved to be nothing more or less than the witch woman, who had arrived with her broom. She was attired in red and black with her hair, which was gray, loose and a high peaked hat. She was a good natured witch and delighted all with funny futures. During the evening refreshments of delicious ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

The end came as it does to all good times and in the small hours of the morning as the last strain of music was heard all gathered in the dining-room, and took part in cutting the "Green cake," which was filled with all sorts of funny things, with the outest little witch in the center. This caused a good deal of amusement and laughter.

It was a very enjoyable occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Grant did everything to make their friends have a good time and it was hard for these people to find words in which to express their appreciation of their kindness and thoughtfulness in opening their home to so many.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant were assisted by Mr. Grant's nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Grant of Yarmouth.

Oxford County Crop Report.

The almost unparalleled fine weather of late, given farmers a rare opportunity to do their harvesting and fall work.

The apple crop is mostly secured and stored, awaiting more favorable prices. While the crop is not as large as last year yet the fruit generally is sound and of good color. Potatoes have not yielded largely. A crop cannot be said to be an average one. We hear of little complaint from rot and on sandy soils the tubers though small are smooth and ripe. Grains have done well with possibly some exceptions on very light, dry soil. Sweet corn came in fine and the pack while not large, was exceptionally good in quality, owing to the very dry weather, fall feed is rather scant in the fields and pastures.

In this section little yellow corn is raised, quite too little, while stock feeds maintain present prices. Most of our farmers by the way, are getting returns for their creamery products, and too much of the receipts go out in winter feeds. We think that are long our farmers will see the necessity of raising more home products. However, everything indicates general success and prosperity in farming circles. On the other hand, farmers are much better supplied with improved farm implements, and household necessities and even luxuries and adornments, than a decade ago; and we believe that the issuing of mortgages on property is far less. The average farmer of today is well fixed financially, and is enjoying many of the comforts that were strangers to the old home years ago.

A Maine Story.

The ADVERTISER has just received from the publishers, Lothrop, Lee & Shepard Co., of Boston, "The Camp on Letter K," which is a genuine Maine book.

In the first place the author, Clarence B. Barleigh, of the Kennebec Journal, Augusta, is a Maine man, and those who belong to the profession and have heard something of his versatility at the meeting of the Maine Press Association do not wonder at the appearance of this book. The location of the story has also the flavor of the Pine Tree State. It is in Arrostook county with its surroundings of potatoes, bears, deer and smugglers, and the last of these play quite an important part about the camp in the unincorporated township of K. It has a base of action, the second coming in the settled portion of the county. Chester Corner. It may be hard to locate this village on the map, but it is typical of crossing points of two roads. Some of the history, too, is common to other corners. Most of Arrostook county is comparatively new ground, and the history of the older hamlets in the time of our fathers. The railroad is something causes a sign of regret at its advantages and in spite of its disadvantages causes a sign of regret at the displaced stage coach and the "hot" team pushed into the deeper recesses of the forest.

It is a boy's book and with the natural resources at hand, is full of those adventures about which they so much like to read.

Camp C. C.

A party of 10 people followed the winding road leading to the mountain-top, the 4th inst. When near the summit they came to a charming little valley with a babbling brook threading its way hastily towards the settlement. On the banks of this picturesque stream is situated a cozy, comfortable cottage where all were cordially welcomed and congratulated on their climbing capacity.

After a social chat dinner was served and all concluded the cooks couldn't be censured.

Chaperons and cameras were much in evidence. Sunset came all too soon and as the twilight shadows lengthened all took the trail down the mountain, expressing the wish to again visit with "Mine hosts" at Camp C. C.

A Good Record.

Out of all the external remedies on the market, we doubt if there is one that has the record of that world-renowned porous plaster—Alcock's. It has now been in use for sixty years, and still continues to be as popular as ever in doing its great work of relieving our pains and aches. It is the remedy we all need when suffering from any form of cold or pain, resulting from taking cold or over-exertion.

Alcock's Plasters are sold by Druggists in every part of the civilized world.

Tramps Break in and Steal.

Tramps broke into the Sebastian Smith house on Fore street, Oxford, recently. It looked as though there might have been two of them or more. They entered by breaking in the lower half of a window in the ell and then proceeded to set themselves up in housekeeping after their own ideas. They mixed up a batch of biscuit and by the looks they got about as much flour and cooking material on the floor and furniture as in the biscuit. They ate a quart jar full of molasses and helped themselves to other eatables in the house.

They burned all the kerosene then made light from a dozen or more candles. The tall from the candles was in drops over the floor and on other places wherever they worked and carried the candles. They had searched the house evidently for something to eat and left things topsy-turvy and their dishes unwashed. It will take a good deal of work to clear up the house and put it back in as good condition as they found it. The beds were not disturbed and robbery did not appear to enter into their plans.

Few people know what a comfortable place the Green-dragon, H. D. Smith's camp, is, in summer or winter, unless they have had the pleasure of going there. It is picturesquely situated near the top of a steep hill in front of Sebastian Smith's farm home and in the pasture of the Smith farm. The camp is two story with a large living room and kitchen and chambers up stairs. It is built so that it can be kept warm in the winter from a fire in the large stone fire place.

The camp faces the west and the view out across the valley to the distant mountains is a scene of rest. The trains on the Grand Trunk passing the valley is one of the sights especially in the evening, and the sunsets behind the mountains are fine. Large trout among which are several oaks, are about the camp and extend to the top of the hill behind it through which one of the paths leads to the old orchard, one of places that is frequently visited by the campers of the Green-dragon in the summer season. There is usually a breeze on this hill and at the camp even on the warmest days, and the trees and the hill serve to shelter the camp in winter.

Two of the out-of-doors pleasure of the younger members of the family are, the growing of pennyroyal in abundance about there and its coming heralds the summer season that may be lived in camp and is a time of rejoicing; also fishing in the Little Androscoggin.

Word from Peary.

Commander Robert E. Peary of the U. S. navy, has given to his native country the record of having penetrated "Earth's north" 37 degrees and 6 minutes. He got within 200 miles of the pole. He penetrated nearly to the pole when the Duke of Abruzzi's expedition which had held the Arctic record 86 degrees, 34 minutes. This will be of more than the usual interest to Oxford county for Commander Peary was at one time a resident of the county and made a record as the foremost explorers in the Arctic region his mother still lived in Bethel and received visits there from her son.

A good thing has come out concerning a local campaign orator during the recent struggle in Maine. "My friends," said the political speaker, with a burst of eloquence for which he was noted, "I will be honest—" There was a large number of his neighbors present, and the terrific outburst of applause which followed this remark entirely upset the point which the orator was about to introduce.

FROM GIRLHOOD TO WOMANHOOD

Mothers Should Watch the Development of Their Daughters—Interesting Experiences of Misses Borman and Mills.

MATILDA BORMAN MYRTLE MILLS

Every mother possesses information which is of vital interest to her young daughter.

Too often this is never imparted or is withheld until serious harm has resulted to the growing girl through her ignorance of nature's mysterious and wonderful laws and penalties.

Girls' over-sensitiveness and modesty often puzzle their mothers and baffles physicians, as they so often withhold their confidence from their mothers and conceal the symptoms which ought to be told to their physician at this critical period.

When a girl's thoughts become sluggish, with headache, dizziness or a disposition to sleep, pains in hands, feet, limbs, eyes dim, desire for solitude, when she is a mystery to herself and friends, her mother should come to her aid, and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will at this time prepare the system for the coming change, and start this trying period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities.

Hundreds of letters from young girls and from mothers, expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for them, have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., at Lynn, Mass.

Miss Mills has written the two following letters to Mrs. Pinkham, which will be read with interest:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (First Letter.) "I am but fifteen years of age and have had dizzy spells, chills, headache and backache, and as I have heard that you can give helpful advice to girls in my condition, I am writing you."—Myrtle Mills, Oquawka, Ill.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (Second Letter.) "It is with the feeling of utmost gratitude that I write to you to tell you what your valuable medicine has done for me. When I wrote you in regard to my condition I had consulted several doctors, but they failed to understand my case and I did not receive any benefit from their treatment. I followed your advice, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I feel healthy and well, and all the distressing symptoms which I had at that time have disappeared."—Myrtle Mills, Oquawka, Ill.

Miss Matilda Borman writes Mrs. Pinkham as follows:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my periods were irregular and painful, and I always had such dreadful headaches.

"But since taking the Compound my headaches have entirely left me, my periods are regular, and I am getting strong and well. I am telling all my girl friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Matilda Borman, Farmington, Iowa.

If you know of any young girl who is sick and needs motherly advice, ask her to address Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and tell her every detail of her symptoms, and to keep nothing back. She will receive advice absolutely free, from a source that has no rival in the experience of woman's ills, and it will, if followed, put her on the right road to a strong, healthy and happy womanhood.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound holds the record for the greatest number of cures of female ills of any medicine that the world has ever known. Why don't you try it?

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Makes Sick Women Well.

Incident in Henry L. Farrington's War Record.

I recently heard an old army comrade of Henry L. Farrington relate an incident in the latter's career as a soldier, which might be as interesting to some of your readers as it was to me. At the battle of Antietam, Farrington's regiment, the 10th Maine, saw hard service and sustained heavy losses, being used up so badly that the remnant of the regiment was finally relieved and the survivors ordered back.

Mr. Farrington being one of the fortunate ones, who were neither dead nor wounded, instead of accepting the much needed respite, joined a New York regiment with two of his comrades and continued fighting. And that on an empty stomach they had gone in that morning before they had time for any breakfast.

This army comrade of Mr. Farrington says he was one of the best of soldiers and a brave man, and by no means quarrelsome, and he thinks it a piece of great injustice for him to be obliged to serve sentence for manslaughter, when he was simply in the act of defending his own life. His opinion seems to be that a man has a right to fight in self defense, whether or no he is intoxicated. Apparently the fair minded jury thought otherwise.

CORA M. W. GREENLEAF.

Blame the Autos for Gypsy Mot in Maine.

Automobiles may cause a loss to Maine of the greater part of its forest and its fruit trees, amounting to millions of dollars. This, in effect, is the warning sent out from the office of the state entomologist.

"It is not the automobile itself that is feared in this case, but certain unbridled passengers, it may bring from New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts, where there abounds a pest that has cost the Old Bay State over $1,500,000. It is the famous gypsy moth. Already one town has been driven nearly to desertion by the plague.

"This is the town of East Rochester on the New Hampshire border where the gypsy moth reached this town several months ago through a person whose name is not known. An automobile from Massachusetts left specimens in the town. The moths began to multiply until the whole community was overrun with them."

Maine's coming legislature will be asked for $100,000 to combat the plague. Pine trees in the State are suffering and fruit everywhere has been hurt. It is feared that many of Maine's beautifully wooded parks and roads may be destroyed once the moths get headway.

Oxford Man General Manager.

The recent hurricane in Cuba and the southeastern coast of Florida has called special attention to the wonderful extension of the Florida East Coast Railroad, which is now being built along the Florida Keys which lie between the mainland and Key West, the proposed extension of this road. The extension of this road has great interest for our people, not only for its scenic attraction and engineering difficulties, but also because an Oxford man, J. R. Parrott, esq., is vice president and general manager.

It may be interesting to those who contemplate passing over this road at some future time, that the road already built was not seriously injured by the storm, which speaks well for its construction, and allays fears of damage in future hurricanes.

The distance from Miami to Key West is about 150 miles, but as the road had actually been built to Homestead, 24 miles south of Miami, the real distance of the extension to be built will be a little more than 120 miles.

Charles Moore Wilson of Waterford is in his second year at the Maine Medical school.

A New Hampshire paper says:—It is stated that down in the hunting regions of Maine the sportsmen are just as careful as can be not to shoot a moose, unless it is a bull and has horns of the requisite size, showing it to be at least two years old. There's a $500 fine for a violation of this law and it is obeyed to the letter. But when it comes to shooting a man by mistake, no such care is displayed. There's likewise a penalty for that, but like so many other laws, it is not enforced. There seems to be no need of comment on this condition of affairs.

Divorce.

Now and again there are presented at divorce courts scenes that are far more sad than ever seen at a funeral. To outsiders the cause of the trouble is so cheap and trivial that one feels like laughing aloud. But to the parties interested the contention is more serious than any conflict that was ever waged between warring nations. And the pity of it all lies in the fact that the worst trouble might have been averted, had either party used more tact and exercised greater forbearance. If the wife had been less vain and flighty, if the husband had been more patient and thoughtful—ah if things had deviated in ever so small a manner, all this temper and exposure might have been averted.

But instead of compromising or agreeing to a dignified separation, the little spat had to culminate in an open court trial before curious and sneering spectators. The most sacred sentiments known to mankind had to be analyzed and exposed to the proings of lawyers, who work for hire, and who will recall the answers of angry contestants and tell about them for years to come.

As one thinks of the cruel awakening from one love's dream, and as one contemplates the shame every participant in the proceedings must feel, it seems that nobody with any natural feeling could trust the arbitrament of his cherished hopes to any court on earth.

Denunciation of the divorce evil does little good. The search is for practical remedies. As an experiment the plan of a Philadelphia Judge to prevent the marriage of respondent and correspondent was commended. So meditative is the mental as well as the physical pace of Philadelphia, that from the same city came also the next viable suggestion.

A clergyman by careful calculation concludes that merely by incorporating in his statutes a law of ancient Greece he can cause a decrease in the number of divorces from 60 to 70 per cent.

The law is not in the least complex.
It provides simply that when a man gets a divorce he cannot under any circumstance marry another woman younger than his ex-wife.

Conceding that 60 per cent. of the divorces will thereby be prevented, we have an amendment to offer which will take care of the remaining 40 per cent.
A woman who gets a divorce must not be permitted under any circumstance to marry another man richer than her ex-husband.

This double barreled attack upon rich men and young women—the two classes who keep our divorce courts open—seems thoroughly logical, sociologically and psychologically.

Marriage is civilization's check upon the natural state of barbarous man, which is promiscuity. The check being sometimes a choking one, divorce was created as a partial concession to Nature. Nature's spoiled darlings are naturally the leaders in the attempt to enlarge the leash until it is stretched past all usefulness. Again it is society's duty to make it as uncomfortable as possible for those who have the best of everything else in the world—the rich man and the young woman.

BUMFORD FALLS.

Some sixty teachers went to the Lewiston teachers' convention.

Laduke's restaurant and Gonzi's fruit store were wrecked by fire.

Evangelist Gilman has closed his series of meetings. Unestimable good has been done.

Hon. George D. Biebee has been in New York engaged in a case before the United States Court.

Much interest was manifested in the revival services that were held here recently by Evangelist Gilman.

Dr. L. T. Ross, the Boston dental specialist, has been in town looking over the field in view of starting a dental supply manufacture here.

F. D. Anderson, who has conducted a confectionery and fruit store for the past four years on Congress street, on Wednesday sold his business to F. G.
Newton, who formerly conducted a store in Biddeford.

Olney Farrington of East Andover, while clearing out the pulp in his cider mill, caught his sleeve in the gearing and had his arm drawn in. He gave a jerk and threw off the belt thereby probably saving his arm.

The barn on the home farm of Frank E. Carver at Canton was burned to the ground together with its contents, which comprised six cows, one horse, swine, a dog, potatoes, hay, apples, farming utensils and carriages. Arthur Carver, who resides on the place, was awakened by the pitiful howling of the cattle at about 3 o'clock, at which time the barn was in a blaze and it was impossible to save anything.

Errol Ellis, the eldest son of E. E. Ellis of Canton, was the victim of an unfortunate accident, recently. While loading his 12 calibre rifle it was accidentally discharged, the bullet entering his leg below the knee. The bullet was found below the ankle, having ploughed its way downward and lodged between two bones. The little fellow, who is only 13 years of age, is doing nicely, no serious results are expected by his physician and friends.

Rosco Alexandro, a slick looking Italian, was before the local court charged with forging the name of W. Greenfield of Livermore to a check of $50, which he tried to pass to Charles Iveson.
Alexandro had other checks for larger amounts and failed to cash them. The checks were on the Leather National Bank of Auburn. He pleaded not guilty and was put under $500 bonds to appear before the grand jury. He could not furnish security and deputy J. J. Bell took him to Paris jail.

Gloucester, Wednesday and came home taking care of her daughter Mrs. Will Morse who has been sick.

Children's Corner.

Hearing of the death of Mrs. John Emery of Errol, N. H., reminds me of a beautiful letter received from her some time ago which I think is worthy of publication in the Children's Column.

MY DEAR FRIEND:—It was a great pleasure to me to receive a letter from
you. My health is very poor so please excuse this seeming neglect. I send you some poetry, also a prayer I think is a good one. I know you must be a good girl, you have such a good Christian mamma. I remember you well as a very little child when here, wish I could see you and your mamma but soon we may all be together on that beautiful shore where parting is unknown. You are young and the future is before you, all pure and untarnished, and it lies with you to keep it pure or blacken it, but I trust that you will ever pray God to help you to build an untarnished character.

"Character is more than intellect. Goodness outshines gems, as the sun makes the electric light cast a shadow. A good character is the best of all possessions." I fear my letter will not be very interesting. I am tired and must rest. May God be with you and bless you all your days.

PIGEON HILL.

Charles Jordan is building a hen house.
C. K. Denning was special juror at Auburn last week.

Herbert Tucker at the Morey farm is rebuilding and enlarging the horse stable.

Frank True has sold his four nice oxen to Portland parties. Their combined weight was four tons.

A. D. Thayer has got a United States license to ship dressed meat to Massachusetts without inspection.

Fred Foster and wife of Mexico and Mrs. Falker of Haverhill, Mass., are visiting their brother, Newell Foster.

Drs. Hutchins and Haskell performed a successful operation in the throat of little Jennie Morse, grandchild of Roscoe Cox for laryngitis last week.

Mrs. Roscoe Cox is not recovering from her operation at the hospital as fast as her friends wish. She has had several tumors gather and discharge.

Chas. H. True of Kansas was the guest of his cousin, J. K. Denning, last week.
He has not been here for 30 years. He owns and runs a ranch of 1080 acres.

Walter W. Denning, wife and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson of Marblehead, Mass., and stopping at Poland Springs, were guests at J. K. Denning's last week.

Fred Verrill of Oxford village has purchased the Thomas Sound farm now owned by Henry Graffam. Mr. Graffam will move into Will Graffam's newly repaired house.

OTISFIELD.

Lighted Chandelier at Church Fell.

The church at Spurr's Corner narrowly escaped being destroyed by fire Wednesday evening, Oct. 21. There was to have been an evening service there and all the lamps were lighted when the chandelier fell to the floor setting the oil on fire which quickly kindled the wood-work of the pews and the carpet.

But by quick action the part of the chandelier and others the fire was extinguished by piling the cushions from the pews upon the flames. Injury to the building will be repaired by the insurance but the cushions will be a loss.

GRAFTON.

Frederick E. Decker.

After an illness of more than two years and as the result of a surgical operation in a Boston hospital, Frederick E. Decker passed to the higher life, Oct.
10th, aged 43 years. Eight years ago last February he was married to Frances Otis of Grafton and two children were born to them, Marguerite aged 8, Helen aged 5 years. These survive him, also an aged father and brothers and sisters.

The funeral services were at Grafton conducted by a former pastor, Rev.
Isabella S. McNeill. The burial was under the direction of the Knights of Pythias, a delegation from the Hanover Lodge, of which he was a member, being in attendance.

Impoverished Soil

Impoverished soil, like impoverished blood, needs a proper fertilizer. A chemist by analyzing the soil can tell you what fertilizer to use for different products.

If your blood is impoverished your doctor will tell you what you need to fertilize it and give it the rich, red corpuscles that are lacking in it. It may be you need a tonic, but more likely you need a concentrated fat food, and fat is the element lacking in your system.

There is no fat food that is so easily digested and assimilated as

Scott's Emulsion

It will nourish and strengthen the body when milk and cream fail to do it. Scott's Emulsion is always the same; always palatable and always beneficial any cause, either in children or adults.

ture in the form of a

sion you buy.
